

I am totally against allowing anyone whom I have procured services from, or their affiliates, to solicit me through my phone, for additional services or comments. I agree they should be provided a single opportunity to verify my opinion, but totally disagree with additional attempts by these parties to contact me. When I signed up for the no-call list that is exactly what I preferred - a "no-call" list, not a "no-call but with exception list".